They build the capacity of the site in which they are placed to increase the reach and/or enhance the quality of the organization's services and the impact on communities served. This position is an AmeriCorps service member position with the AmeriCorps program, Recovery Corps.

Essential Functions

Recovery Capacity Building: Recovery Project Coordinators implement a site-based service plan that aligns with urgent needs across recovery communities and the addiction continuum of care. The services provided by Recovery Project Coordinators vary by site, but will include one or more of the following categories:

- New Project, Program, or Initiative Development
 - Support the planning and/or implementation of new organizational projects or programs.
 - Develop curricula for a stakeholder or client group.
 - Identify needs and plan programs that support alumni engagement.
- Community Engagement and Communications
 - Communicate available organizational resources to impact people and communities.
 - Advance equity initiatives by partnering, developing, and advancing relationships with historically excluded and/or marginalized communities.
 - Engage community members in recovery communications, educational outreach, conversations, and other engagement activities.
 - Build relationships and trust with community partners and stakeholders.
 - Create or update external communication plans.
 - Support marketing efforts, including branding and/or social media efforts.
- Research, Data Collection, and Analysis
 - Perform basic research and analysis.
 - Support the design or implementation of data collection tools or processes.
 - Conduct interviews, focus groups, and/or administer surveys to collect data.
 - Analyze, interpret, and summarize data to guide ongoing or future projects.
 - Employ evidence-based, and systems approaches to address substance use disorder issues and support initiatives across the addiction continuum of care.
 - Maintain confidentiality of any personally identifiable information at all times.
- Volunteer Management & Mobilization
 - Create recruitment materials, such as flyers, mailout letters, and advertisements of volunteer opportunities.
 - Engage and/or manage volunteers in site-specific opportunities that provide additional support for recovery communities.
- Harm Reduction Services
 - Conduct training on and/or distribute opioid overdose reversal medication (e.g., naloxone) to individuals at risk of overdose or to those who might respond to an overdose.

- Conduct educational campaigns and/or resource guides to reduce infectious disease transmission among people who use drugs, including those who inject drugs.
- Educate workforce and allies on the intersection of recovery and harm reduction.
- Workforce Development
 - Help connect to local training providers/post-secondary entities to help build a workforce pipeline to professional positions in the addiction/recovery field.
 - Coordinate activities needed to enroll individuals in peer support training and/or the certification process.
- Project Coordination and Internal Process Improvement
 - Provide organizational capacity assessments.
 - Monitor or document organizational changes related to quality improvement and support.
 - Engage in projects that support:
 - Cross-sector coordination and planning efforts
 - Curriculum development
 - Marketing and communication strategies or processes

Recovery Career Planning: Recovery Project Coordinators will participate in ongoing training, coaching, and planning to prepare for careers in the recovery or addiction care sector. They will participate in individual career planning support to identify clear pathways via further education, continued service, or employment opportunities post-service.
